

Faculty Development Programme at IIT Mandi

14 -16 June, 2018

A 3-day Faculty Development Programme for the faculty members of IIT Mandi was conducted at IIT Mandi by members from the Teaching and Learning Centre of IIT Madras. This programme was facilitated by the Teaching and Learning Committee (TLC) of IIT Mandi. Prof. Edamana Prasad and Prof. Sreepad Karmalkar from IIT Madras conducted the programme, in which 10 faculty members from IIT Mandi's four Schools participated. Prof. Timothy Gonsalves, Director IIT Mandi, inaugurated the programme and shared his thoughts on effective teaching and learning with the participants.

The sessions were all interactive and comprised modules on Course Design, Learning Outcomes, Active and Cooperative Learning, Soliciting Feedback and Reflection, and Assessment Plans. The last day's sessions were devoted to teaching demonstrations where participants presented lectures on themes of their choice for 20 minutes, and were given constructive feedback by their peers.

The Teaching and Learning Committee of IIT Mandi plans to conduct more such courses periodically with a view to expose its teaching faculty to modern, student-centric and effective teaching methods.
